WAR BREAKS OUT.

Contingencies Provided FOR In International Law.

WHAT IS CONTRABAND OF WAR.

The Matter of Privateering--Seizures at Sea--Coaling Naval Ships--Our Previous War Experiences.

Hostilities Usually Begin Without Formal Declaration of War.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—[Special.]—War is a great game. Fully one of all the written international law has direct or indirect bearing upon hostilities between nations. Most of the wars of history have commenced without a previous formal declaration of war. The present crisis of the United States has formally declared war only once, and that was against Great Britain in 1812. "Limited" or "partial" declarations against France were made in 1796 when that country was harassing our commerce and levying unjust duties upon our ships in our ports. But after Congress had authorized the president to equip an emergency army the crisis of 1796 was over, and no hostilities followed.

The War of 1812. In 1812 the agreement between Britain had become intolerable, and after a prolonged and bitter debate Congress, on the 18th of June, passed an act declaring war. There was opposition in both houses. The Mexican war began without any formal declaration, as of course did the war between the states. This war was actually begun on March 30, 1861, but the first congressional recognition of it was in May, when the two houses passed a law authorizing the president to give arms to the volunteers. The war which was authorized by the act was the war which was authorized by the act.

WAR INEVITABLE. Washington, April 2.—A conflict with Spain is now regarded as inevitable by President McKinley and his cabinet. In his message to Congress, which is in probability the last in part Monday, and certainly very early next week, it is understood that the president will review at some length the rule which forbids belligerent ships to use neutral ports as a base of operations. They may find the neutral ports in states of war or for other purposes, or to get provisions and fuel with which to fight, but not to carry on their campaign against the enemy. WILLIAM WALKER.

COUNTER ARGUMENT. Washington, April 1.—Spain is not likely to accede to our demand. President McKinley's proposition that Spain should be allowed to keep the Philippines is a concession which may be resisted in peace. In war all the resources of the country are at the disposal of the government. The government is at the disposal of the country.

Discovered By a Woman. Another great discovery has been made, and that too by a lady in this country. "Disease" is the name of the discovery. It is a disease which is discovered by a woman. It is a disease which is discovered by a woman. It is a disease which is discovered by a woman.

CONGRESSIONAL SUMMARY.

In the Senate. Washington, March 29.—In the Senate, Messrs. Foraker and Frye introduced resolutions to receive the Cuban independence and Mr. Rawlins (Utah) offered one declaring war against Spain.

Washington, March 30.—Three resolutions were introduced regarding Cuban independence and urging intervention, and one declaring war against Spain.—Seventy-four private pension bills passed.

Washington, April 1.—A Cuban debate was precipitated by Mr. Frye making an apparently simple request on behalf of the foreign relations committee.—Thirty-five pages of the sundry civil appropriation bill were disposed of.

Washington, April 2.—Secretary of state requested to send Cuban consular correspondence to Senate.—Resolution adopted inquiring about protection of seacoast cities of Georgia.

In the House. Washington, March 30.—Private bills considered.—No vote reached on bill to send seven pairs of coal, but where furnished by loyal people of the south during the rebellion.

Washington, April 1.—During Cuban debate Mr. Grosvenor declared the administration from the president down was for free Cuba, and would back it with force if necessary.

Washington, April 2.—Decided to build 24 instead of 12 torpedo boats.—Refused to reduce number of warships or price of armor plate.

Foreign Orders For Spanish. Madrid, April 4.—From all the pulpits in Madrid the priests read a letter from the bishop of the diocese announcing that he considered war to be imminent, and ordering prayers for the success of the Spanish arms.

Baby Resisted the Cow. Mancini, Ind., April 4.—Mrs. James Feltz was attacked by a vicious cow and probably fatally injured. The woman's year-old daughter drove the vicious bovine away by throwing hot water on it.

Heit to Headlines. Springfield, Ill., April 4.—Governor Tanner has been asked by the war department at Washington to have the small reserves in readiness, and has issued orders to that effect.

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1909

FALLS OF ROUGH.

Miss Olla Harl is no better.

Mr. Willis Green returned from Louisville the other day.

Little Jennie Stone visited her aunt in Ohio county last week.

The meeting closed last week with several additions to the church.

I hear there is to be another big meeting at this place about the first of May.

Mr. Charles Green of Beverlyville, is spending a few weeks with her.

Very few people here have planted the green peas yet, on account of so much rain.

Tom Butler has bought a lot of young cattle lately, paying a good price for them.

Miss Mary Bradshaw, of Short Creek, went to Fordville last week to visit her sister.

Tom Butler, of Moore, Ohio county, was a guest of the Messrs. Chambliss Sunday.

Mrs. John Kehrle and little daughter, Florence, were guests of Mr. Mercer last week.

Mr. Ellis Lloyd, of Louisville, paid Fordville and his parents a flying visit last week.

Col. Green & Sons have on a nice new stock of goods, and they are selling them right cheap too.

Miss Jennie Morgan has been quite ill for several weeks, though she is much better at present.

Mr. White, of Rock Vale had a log rolling, and Mr. Clemons had a fence raising last week.

Ed Stone killed a large gray fox out in his new ground last week. It was a fine specimen of its kind.

Miss Mamie Stone, Corn Wingate, Zippa and Willie Chambliss were guests of Mr. Chambliss Sunday.

If the wild rumors I hear are true Cuba will certainly be free in the near future, but it will be some time before the war will be over.

The wheat crops in this vicinity are looking very fine, and the prospect for a plentiful harvest is better than has been for several years.

Col. Green's big saw mills are running briskly since the water have receded and business is booming right along in our little village.

Miss Katie Butler was the guest of Miss Cora Wingate and Mr. Joe Jones visited Mr. R. B. Chambliss one Sunday in the big meeting.

I am told that Mr. Albert Beauchamp kept children turkey hens to raise from the year. She will certainly have a beautiful supply of eggs.

God has taken the little baby to Heaven that brightened Brother Miller's home as a time. We extend sympathy to the bereaved parents.

Mr. Ellis Lloyd, of Louisville, has rented out his property on East Academy Street. Himself and family are here on account of his wife's ill health.

Master Earl Lloyd, of Louisville, returned home last week after a visit of several weeks to his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lloyd, of Fordville.

Miss Cora Wingate says she has no stomach, but she craved meat, but there is a certain young man in possession of a pair of lovely brown eyes, which her estimation are the only eyes in the world worth looking into.

Mr. Mattie Neaveaux, who was drowned in the Walcott river near her home in Indiana, was brought to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kehrle, for interment, and was laid to rest in the family burying ground in Cayuga county.

West a sad calling for one so young.

Flint trees are decorated in lovely pink and white, and the orange blossom buds some filled the air with sweet perfume.

Little white flowers are peeping out of every sheltered nook in their mud at way, nodding and smiling at the heavy gray clouds, and trusty air and glowing sun.

Just a sad calling for one so young.

Miss Kate White, of Buckner, Ky., Four Years Old, Four Feet in Height and Weighs 130 Pounds.

(Elizabethan Leader.)

Miss Kate White, of Buckner, Ky., is probably the largest child for her age in the world. She is four years old and weighs 130 pounds and is four feet high. Her chest measurement is 38 inches and the distance from shoulder to shoulder is 19 inches. Her depth of chest is a little more than 10 inches. Pondering gracefully, she has well rounded shoulders and a head 21 inches around, which is supported by a neck 15 inches in circumference.

The distance around her waist is 37 inches, and it takes three feet seven inches of tape to meet around her hips. Her arms measure 20 inches in length and exactly one foot to the biceps muscle, while the forearm at its largest point is 11 inches around.

From these measurements it will be seen that this little girl of four years is as large as many points as an adult weighing 200 pounds. Although she is very large she is active, both in body and mind. Her mental development is wonderful, being equal to that of most children at twice her age, and is rarely if ever excelled by children of equal age.

Her father, Ed White, is about 25 years old and weighs but a few pounds more than his four-year-old daughter, while her mother is a few years younger than her father and weighs but a few pounds more. Miss Kate enjoys the best health, and is fortunate enough to reach maturity, will possibly be the largest woman in the world.

A torpid liver robs you of ambition and ruins your health. DeWitt's Little Early Risers cleanse the liver, cure constipation and all stomach and liver troubles. —Scott & Haynes.

At Taylor college, Upland, Indiana one of the buildings, "The Maria Wright Hall," bears the name of the donor on the corner stone. Maria Wright is the wife of Rev. John R. Wright, the president of the college, as well as president of the "National Association of Local Preachers," a familiar name, especially to Methodists, all over the country.

If anyone has known the luxury of doing good the beloved wife and co-worker of the president of Taylor college has enjoyed her share. In the same helpful spirit with which she has helped many a poor struggling student, by something more substantial than good advice, Mrs. Wright writes to the proprietors of Paine's celery compound hoping some one may be benefited by Paine's celery compound, as her letter shows that she has been—

Spain and the World

THE GROWTH AND DECAY OF THE GREATEST NATION IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD.

Founded on the ruins of ancient Rome and peopled by the rugged races of the middle ages, Spain easily conquered the old world and discovered and overran the new world. Under the rule of Charles I of Spain, better known in history as Charles V of Germany, the Spanish empire included the whole Iberian peninsula, the Balearic islands, Roussillon and Cerdagne north of the Pyrenees, the island of Sardinia, Sicily, Naples and Milan, Franche-Comte, Holland and Belgium and practically Austria, Bohemia, Hungary and Transylvania. In Africa it held the vast domains which Portuguese adventurers had seized, and in Asia the Philippine archipelago. In North America Spanish territory included everything south of Savannah on the east and San Francisco on the west, together with Mexico, Central America and the West Indies. Spain dominated all South America, including Brazil, which was a Portuguese restraint "spaniard stood at a window in his home at Madrid and threw the street, a handful at a time, two bars of silver coins for the fun of seeing the rabble scramble for the money. National extravagance kept pace with individual prodigality, and legitimate business was lost sight of in speculation. Spain ruled the most of the world and snatched the rest of it. Upon her strength was founded the national pride which proved her national weakness.

New Spain.
At her zenith Spain seemed to possess invincible power. Only one nation dared to challenge it. That nation was England. Spain's argosies were successfully attacked in the south sea. Then came the destruction of the great armada. The charm was broken. Spain started on the downward path and never stopped. Power developed without and within. Under Ferdinand and Isabella began the rule of the country which their successors have completed. They drove the Jews and the Moors out of Spain. It is that fact in Spanish history which accounts for the nation's decadence. The Jew and the Moor were traders and artisans. They constituted the middle class, and they were the people which the fanaticism of Isabella and the dark zeal of Torquemada banished from Spanish soil. When they were gone, the science, the invention, had gone, there remained only the soldier and the peasant. From the days of Ferdinand to the days of Veyler it has been the policy of Spain to terrorize her subjects into submission by torture and butchery. From first to last this policy has been a failure.

Early in the sixteenth century the Netherlands revolted and formed the United Provinces. The sturdy Dutchmen destroyed what remnants remained of the Spanish navy, and in 1648, at Breda, the Spanish infantry, utterly invincible, was beaten and forever broken. Portugal and her vast possessions in three continents were lost in 1640. Naples revolted in 1643 under Masaniello. He was assassinated by bravo in the hire of Spain, and after a long struggle the rebellion was suppressed. But Spain's hold on the two Sicilies, once loosened, was never as strong again. France seized the provinces north of the Pyrenees and Franche-Comte. All authority in the German states had long been lost to Spain, and the last Spanish king of the Austrian dynasty, at the close of the seventeenth century, saw his realm the prey of the great powers.

Equally disastrous were those times in the colonies. The Dutch, French and English seized foothold in the Gambia and then helped themselves one after another to the smaller islands in the Caribbean sea. By the time of the Dutch war of 1665 the pretensions of Spain to universal ownership in those regions were wholly ignored. The English seized Jamaica. The French took Tortuga and thence sent out filibusters, who presently drove the Spanish out of Haiti-Hiponile, Little Spain—and made it a French province. Even Havana was attacked more than once. Drake had a fruitless venture at it.

Penn and Venezuela, who took Jamaica, tried to take it, but failed. England did storm the forts in 1700 and held the city a few years, then gave it back to Spain. By the end of that century Trinidad, too, was snatched away, and Spain's commerce with the American colonies substantially destroyed. England came to her aid at home and in the Napoleonic wars, and the French in turn helped Ferdinand VII to hold his throne.

Spain Loses a Continent.
Early in the nineteenth century rebellions began in South America. Secret societies were formed which led to their object the throwing off of the Spanish yoke. The chief founder and promoter of these was a Spanish creole, Venanzuela, Francisco Miranda, by name. He had served under Washington in the American Revolution and had become thoroughly imbued with the spirit of liberty and with the principles of republicanism. What had been done in North America could, he thought, be done in South America. He therefore formed in London, since it could not safely be done at Caracas, the "Gran Legion Americana." Into this Bolivar and San Martin were initiated. For some years Miranda made occasional but futile attempts at revolution, in one of which he engaged the interest of the great Dundonald. Nothing of importance was achieved, however, until April 19, 1810, when Caracas openly rose against its Spanish governor, Miranda and Bolivar heading the revolt. Two years of conflict followed, not promoting for the insurgents. Then came an earthquake. It destroyed Caracas, killing a number of people. The superstitious troops of the insurgents thought it was an omen, threw down their arms, deserted or were executed, and the revolution was at an end. Miranda was captured, taken to Spain and died in prison—murdered, it may be surmised. Bolivar escaped into the neighboring province of New Granada.

In October, 1812, Bolivar re-entered Venezuela with 300 men, declaring war to the knife against Spain. Victory followed. In August, 1813, he re-entered Caracas in triumph. But when he reversed, and he had to go to Jamaica. For some years more the struggle went on until 1819, when New Granada's army was united as an independent republic under the name of Colombia, the last of the Spanish troops being driven out in 1824. Ecuador was added to the republic in 1823. Peru formed another state in 1825 under the name of Bolivia. From that time on the difficult. It hangs upon the fate of Cuba, but, but the height of the mountains and plateaus makes it endurable to Europeans. The total area of land is 64,000 square miles, and the population some 8,000,000. The flora is wonderfully profuse, comprising oak, sandal and camphor trees, palm, etc., a vast variety of spices and perfume bearing shrubs, rice and the famous vanilla bean. The fauna shows no dangerous beasts of prey save the crocodile. There are buffaloes, pigs, antelopes, monkeys and leopards. As for the people, they are as much mixed as those of Spain itself. Negroes were probably autochthonous. Then Polyynesians came in, and then Malays. Chinese also came in great numbers, and of late years the Japanese have been flocking with intent, it may well be, to possess the land when the Spanish are expelled. The Spanish population is very small. Industry and commerce are considerable. There are steamship lines, railroads, telegraphs and cables, and a foreign trade of $100,000,000 a year. Manila is a splendid city, set on the margin of the great Pacific, and is one of the most beautiful in the world. It has an ancient fortress, fine churches, gay parks, busy streets and canals, parks and palaces, hotels and theaters. The inhabitants are an amiable and handsome race.

Fortified Cities of Spain.
The fortified cities of Spain on the north and northwest coast are Santander, Santander, Girona, Ferrol and Vigo on the Atlantic, between the Portuguese frontier and the strait of Gibraltar, three are Palos, San Lúcar, near the mouth of the Ganges river; Cadiz and Tarifa. In the Mediterranean are Malaga, Gernona, Valencia, Tarragona, Barcelona, Almeria and Alicante. Barcelona, Cartagena and Almeria were formerly looked upon as the most formidable fortresses on the Mediterranean, but their fortifications are now so decayed, so little attention having been paid to them since the wars of the French revolution that, with the exception of a few modern batteries here and there, there are not worthy of consideration.

religious bigotry and the suppression of independent thought by the Inquisition. One Catholic writer, on the other hand, maintains that liberty in dealing with heresy marked the beginning of national decay. Had Charles V been diligent in stamping out the reforming movement, superstition and ignorance would never have deteriorated. The political economist teaches that the enormous wealth brought from America instead of enriching really impoverished Spain, since it induced neglect of home industries and generated an extravagance which became the ruin of the nation. Durable funds, or thinks he finds, the Spaniards, partly at least, in the superstitious reverence for authority which kept the Spaniards faithful to church and state, even while they knew the one to be corrupt and the other incompetent. Pride of character and an arrogance that exalted the hatred of all foreigners and the antagonism of all foreign states, the warlike habits of the Spanish people, confirmed by eight centuries of constant conflict with the Moors, draining the country of its best men and leaving only the weakly and infirm—each and every one of these causes, together with the numerous other causes, has been upheld by able advocates. He the cause what it may, the fact is apparent that the present condition of the Spanish empire is among the least of the nineteenth century. The twentieth century had not her nothing but a memory.

Spain has had much architecture, some art and little literature. The Alhambra, the Alcazar and the Alcazar are marvels of beauty and grandeur. In a book composed for friendliness to Spain Mr. Chatelet-Taylor says that Spaniards are probably less understood in America than any people in Europe. In fact, the popular conception of the Spaniard is of a slender, dark, swarthy, wrapped in a cloak, who smokes cigarettes and commits dark deeds—a sort of come upon a villain, who pays out in cruelty. This is entirely false, and is the Spanish impression of Americans—or "los yankees," as they call them. They look upon us as a species of pincushion barbarians, whose sole merit lies in our dollars, whose manners are boorish and whose government is the see ourselves as others see us, and when one reads in Spanish papers that the United States is a country without principle or religion, without manliness or bravery, where negroes are roasted alive and helens lynched in the public streets, where Chinamen are persecuted and strikes are prevalent, where anarchists are governors of states and personal liberty is unknown, one reasons the trade and feels the finger split, stinging in one's heart. As a matter of fact, the Spanish conception of the American is merely an exaggeration of the national faults, just as our idea of the Spaniard is a misconception of his character, formed by magnifying his vices at the expense of his virtues. Human nature is very much the same the world over, and the Spaniard is very like other men, save that he is down on his luck. Little more people who have known property, he finds it difficult to appreciate his circumvented position and is wont to survey himself from the magnificent standpoint of his achievements.

Suffered 25 Years.

Kidney Difficulty. Entirely Cured by 3 Bottles.

Rev. A. J. MORGAN, D.D., PH.D.

Late President of the M. C. Church, Marion, Pa. "I suffered 25 years with kidney difficulty. Some 20 years ago I used a bottle of your Kidney and Backache Cure. I can truly say that since that time I have had more trouble than I had in 10 minutes before I took the Cure. I feel entirely cured."

Miss Helen Pollock, of Guston, was the guest of Miss Hettie Hendrick Sunday.

Miss Willett spent several days in town last week. Mr. Willett has an interest in our new store.

Andrew Kunkel, of Louisville, has purchased the farm of E. W. Jones near Big Spring and has moved there.

L. D. Addison, of Adkins, has purchased the McCane property and will open a large stock of goods soon.

NOT ALWAYS UNDERSTOOD

A fact often overlooked, or not often understood, is that women suffer as much from distressing kidney and bladder trouble as men. The womb is situated and very close to the bladder, and for that reason any disease, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble.

The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided by setting right acids for twenty-four hours: a sediment or settling is obtained that your kidney and bladder need doctoring. If you have pain or dull aching in the back, pass water too frequently, or scanty supply, with smarting or burning, these are all convincing proofs of kidney trouble. If you have noticed without being told, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the great kidney remedy. The mild and extraordinary effect will surprise you. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures. If you take a medicine you should take the best. At drug stores fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail upon receipt of three two-cent stamps to cover cost of postage on the bottle. Mention the Buckeye News and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., N.Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

BRANDENBURG.

We are impatient for the illustrated News issue.

The Catholic church will be decorated next Sunday.

Alfred Bishop is at home 'till the waters subside.

Services at the Baptist church next Sunday as usual.

Miss Charlotte Herndon is visiting Miss Len Hardin.

Ed Hays came on with his wife but returned to Ohio last Friday.

Special Easter services at the Methodist and Catholic churches next Sunday.

Miss Florence Cain, of Bewleyville, is at Miss Helms' tent and a pupil of the Normal.

Miss Fannie and Ruth Phillips entertained a number of their friends on Saturday night.

The "Rounder" in Meade Messenger had a good word last week for a sabbath boy.

We were disappointed last Friday night that Mr. Bartoo did not make a talk at the Literary.

Mrs. Henry Mallin and her handsome baby are in Elizabethtown with her mother, Mrs. John Kelley, for a visit.

The young people had a pleasant afternoon last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, at their pretty country home.

Misses Irene Dowden and Ada Brown are back from Louisville with an array of beautiful Easter novelties. S. C. them on their opening days—every day this week.

Brother Henson gave us a good sermon last Sunday. The choir was enthused while the flowers the brightening, the sunshine were fitting accompaniment to this season's uplifting and inspiring.

Perhaps a third station may intervene and patch up peace between us and Spain. President McKinley has played a grand role and he is well aware when the limit is reached, he will still preserve his dignity.

Infanta Enlale is not the only woman who has proven herself a diplomat.

Mrs. De Stael and Josephine, her pre-eminent political leaders and feminine diplomatic agents carry weight usually with all statesmen.

How we all admire women of the true helpful sort—on honor to their tender, loving spirit, prevailing all day, unselfish, self-sacrificing, self-denial, full of charity. We all know them and their influence is realizable.

I regret to know that the firm of Conner & Byers has made an assignment. Mr. Byers was an old friend of my husband and is a man of fine honor, good judgment and whole-souled.

It is all as he has been in failing health for several years and unable to give the business his personal attention.

The News last week stepped up another round 1 met Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Dillo on the street and they said: "We are taking the News again, we could not do without it, for it grows better every issue."

By the way, why don't Mr. Dillo visit occasionally for his sympathy and regard at his illness and hope for speedy recovery.

We agree with Preston in Meade Messenger, partly in her view in regard to girls leaving the home shelter as good winners. But where a girl has taste, inclination to carry out his theory as those of a different standard and with that warm Southern smile in his veins naturally he was intense in his views, anyhow, we all feel only sympathy and regret at his illness and hope for speedy recovery.
